Our Values: Social Responsibility

Social responsibility requires us to look at the big picture, and think about how our actions will impact the future. It can be hard to keep focused on our vision. These tips can help you discover how you want to grow professionally and what your end goal is.

REVIVING THE LAND, SEEDING THE FUTURE.

MSU soil scientist Lisa Tiemann is working with farmers in Africa in a hope to introduce sustainable agricultural practices. The population is growing, and fertile land is becoming scarce. See the work she is doing to help provide food and income to the area.

INVENTING THE OUTDOORS

The Michigan Historical Museum explores the changing meaning of the outdoors from a place where people earned a living to a place where they could enjoy recreation and leisure. Learn more by visiting the exhibit recurring daily.
